MY UNIVERSE: FAMILY

The collection 'My Universe: Family' defines his family values with harmony under mutual interactions. The intersection of different ethnicities, cultures, and countries inspires him to explore the connection between his family history and newly joined family members. The emerging idea of traveling his family values has begun from finding heritage of himself to applying the differences in it.

Hangyeul Cho is a designer with the respect for classic and creativity through fine ways of interpretation. His strength is the expression through textile design specifically fine weaving. While his cornerstones composed of various classic environments decides his design aesthetic, the mixture of two or several different aesthetics has been his mainly focused idea in his design process. Various accompanied textures at the point of the mixture are materialized in several ways: volume meaning strong emotions, flatness defining a tranquil mood, etc. His design is more focusing on the harmonization of differences, which means not discriminating differences, nor ignore origin and heritage of them, through the definition of

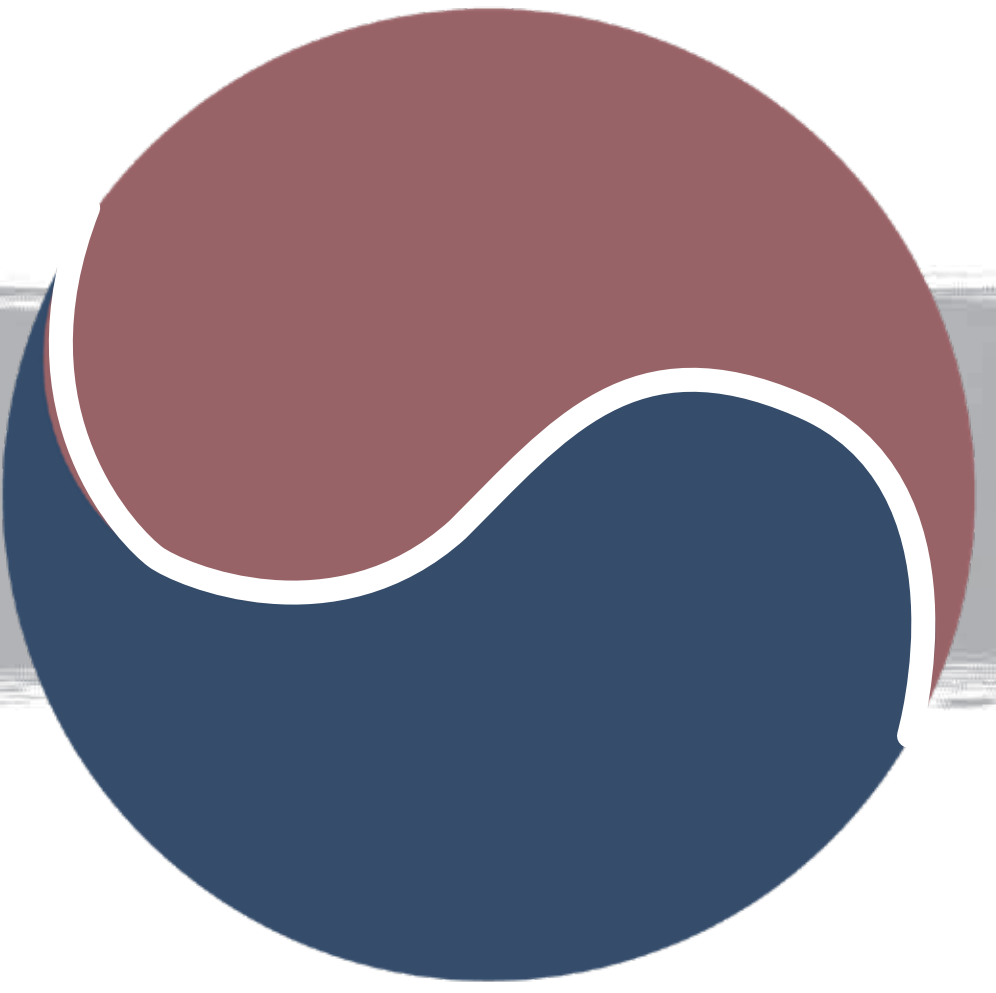

What makes me energetic?
 Why did we find food, to-paste, to-paste?
 Why am I exhausted?
 Why am I unhappy?
 Why am I so forgetful?
 Why don't I sleep?
 Why am I so busy?
 Why am I so nervous?
 Why am I so tired?
 Why am I so sad?

At the same time, have helped me
 happened when I was with family
 When I was young, I learned Marriage - Different ways become one
 Culture - Race, language, history of thinking

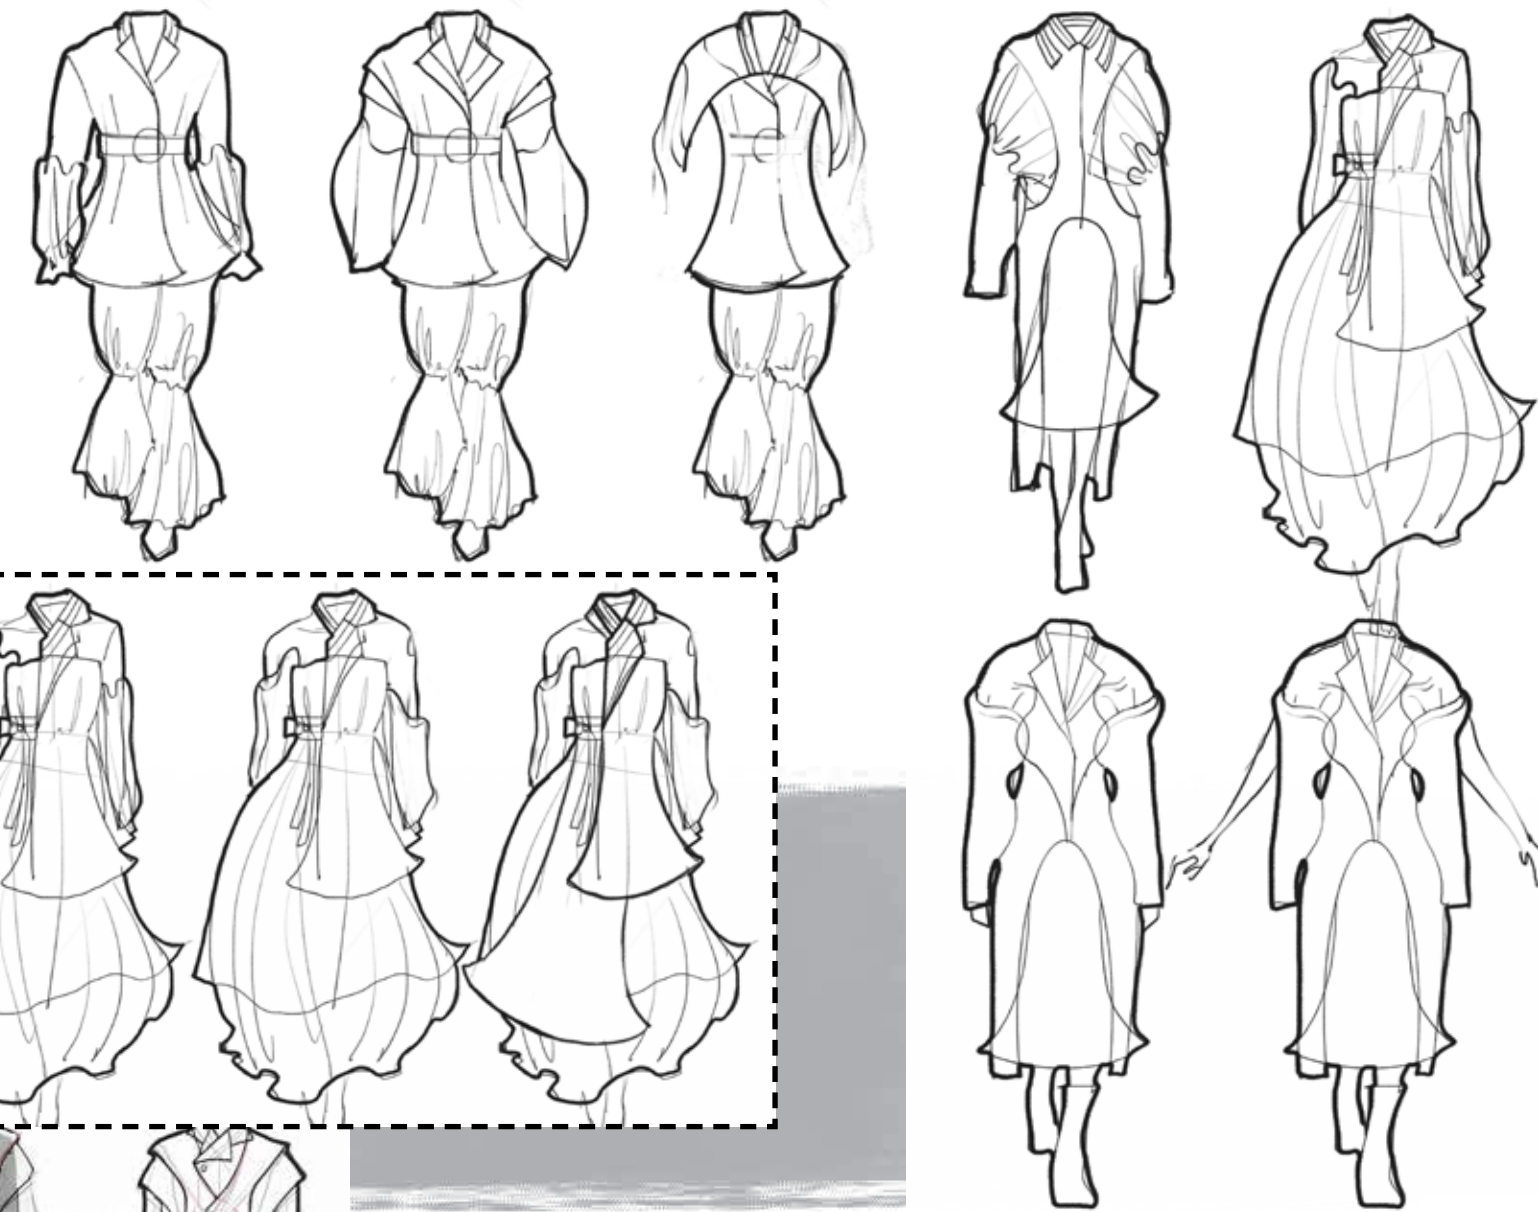

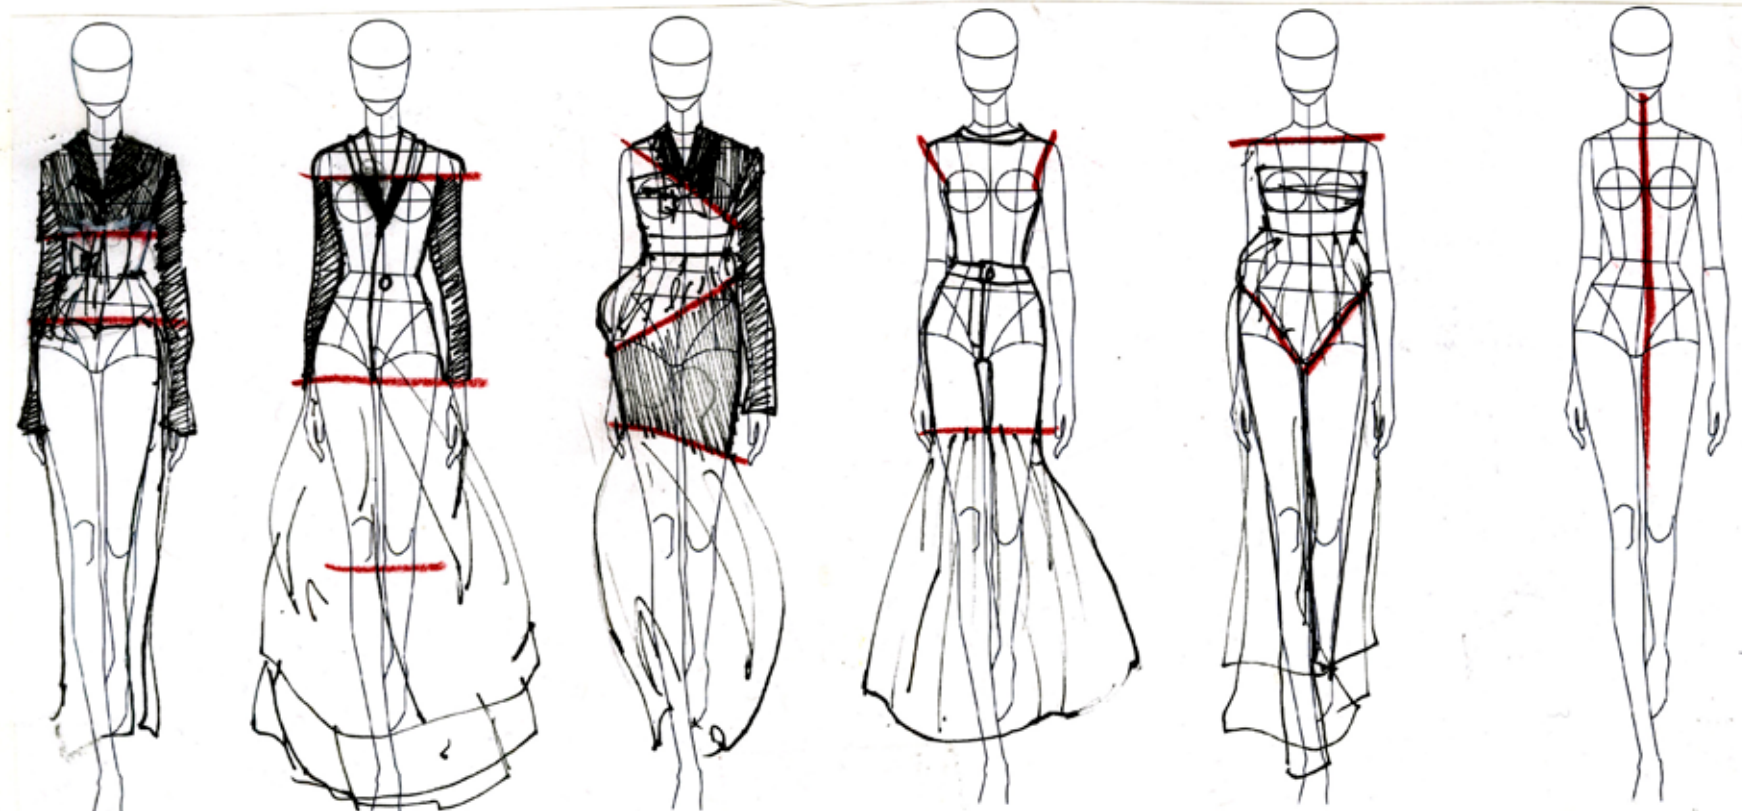

Children in my family
 Originally, we are Korean
 My sister married Chinese American, who was born in Hong Kong and moved to America
 when he was young.
 My sister settled in the West and Eastern,
 and she married him. He became American citizen.
 Another sister married American who came from Scotland and moved to America.
 Korean + Chinese + American / Asian + Black
 When my sister was married, I
 much about difference of nationality, religion,
 she and he, she is Catholic,
 The love has child and will need
 However, my sister sister got married recently, and I feel little different.
